(54) COMMODITY INFORMATION PROVIDING METHOD BY USE OF NONCONTACT IC TAG

(57)Abstract:

PROBLEM TO BE SOLVED: To enable various people to use various pieces of commodity information in various times and various places.

SOLUTION: This commodity information providing method uses a noncontact IC tag mounted on a commodity and having a signal transmitting and receiving antenna and a circuit for receiving a signal from a questioning device and transmitting a response signal to the questioning device. This method comprises steps of receiving a question signal transmitted from the questioning device; and providing the information of the commodity based on the response signal from the noncontact IC tag.
